

Ecclesiastical Declarations - Education, Child Welfare, and Spiritual Jurisdictional Enforcement

1. Declaration of Ecclesiastical Authority Over Education

I retain full ecclesiastical authority over the education of all dependents and beneficiaries under this trust.

No state, federal, or institutional system may impose mandates, requirements, or curriculum against the trust's wishes.

All educational decisions are guided by divine principle and spiritual discernment.

2. Writ of Non-Participation in State Education Systems

I declare that beneficiaries of this trust are not subject to state-controlled schooling or data collection systems.

Attendance, curriculum, and instructional methods are governed under private ecclesiastical law.

This writ rebukes state attempts to register or claim authority over the spiritual development of children.

3. Rebuttal of Child Welfare and Custodial Presumptions

No government or third party has lawful custodial claim over any child or dependent within the ecclesiastical trust.

Any presumption of child endangerment, custody dispute, or welfare claim must be reviewed solely under ecclesiastical law.

All guardianship decisions remain private and protected.

4. Writ of Ecclesiastical Jurisdictional Supremacy

This trust operates solely under divine law and spiritual jurisdiction, which supersedes all civil and corporate law.

No foreign code, charter, or court has authority to challenge the spiritual integrity of this trust.

All enforcement is guided by the sacred obligation to divine order, not statutory enforcement.

5. Declaration of Non-Recognition of Secular Authority

All governmental, corporate, and statutory institutions are hereby notified of their lack of jurisdiction over this trust.

We do not consent to the enforcement of secular rulings, orders, fines, or judgments outside divine authority.

This trust recognizes only sacred law and mutual respect among sovereign beings.

6. Affidavit of Jurisdictional Rebuttal

Any attempt to assert civil authority over ecclesiastical acts shall be treated as a violation of spiritual sovereignty.

All beneficiaries and trustees are protected under ecclesiastical immunity and divine recognition.

This affidavit stands as public notice of rebuttal to all fraudulent jurisdictional claims.

Sealed by authority of the Ecclesiastical Private Trust.
